Scholarship Funds

The fund was established in memoriam by George's parents, the Folk Music Society of NY, and other contributors. George was a young man and a friend of folk music who greatly enjoyed our weekends.

Charles & Ilse Mayer Scholarship Fund - provides one full scholarship for each of the fall, winter, and spring weekends each year. This fund was set up in memoriam by board member Evy and Ilse Mayer in honor of Evy's father Charles Mayer.

The Lil Appel Scholarship is an independent fund which provides scholarship support for the spring and fall weekends to an individual who has a strong interest in folk music, singing, and/or instrumental playing. This fund is established by a loving group of regulars in memory of Lil's 35+ years of bi-weekly Friday night sings, "a breeding and feeding ground for many of today's accomplished singers and musicians."

Letter from Joanne Davis

To My Pinewoods Friends:

As many of you know, I was hospitalized for several months following an elective surgery last July that was supposed to make ambulating much easier but instead led to the worst time of my life. A lot of you had become close friends over the years, and from the start you were there for me, to the extent that in more than two months at Presbyterian Hospital I was without visitors for only four or five days. A great many of my visitors were Pinewoods members. Some of you came from a considerable distance, and I had phone calls (when you were able to find out which new unit I'd been sent to), cards, and more chocolate than even I could consume. Later on, after a notice about my situation appeared in the Newsletter, members I hadn't seen in years called or visited. You couldn't do much to improve my physical condition, but you provided an emotional cushion for me to lean on that was equally important, if not more so. After transferring to a Nursing Home for a couple more months of rehab I returned home in November. I'm working hard at physical therapy, hoping to get to a point where I can resume attending weekends and the occasional New York City concert (we live in Woodstock).....oh, and giving concerts again. I'm sporadically working on a "Hospital Suite", for which I have a ton of raw material.

I can never thank you enough for your support and affection. I always kind of figured Pinewoods was a family, but it seemed a bit touchy-feely to utter such a sentiment aloud. Not any more!

Most sincerely, Joanne Davis <joannesing@earthlink.net>

USE IT OR LOSE IT??

If you've attended one of our Spring or Fall club weekends, you've no doubt witnessed (or been part of) a No-Name-Yet-Gospel-Group performance during a Camper Concert. This enthusiastic gaggle of singers, led by Isabel Goldstein, doesn't quite outnumber the audience, though it sometimes appears close. This is exciting, joyful music, a pleasure to hear and even more enjoyable to sing. The participants are of many religions (or no religion), and the words they sing are meaningful to some, but it's ALWAYS the music that draws everyone together.

Every month or so the Club sponsors a gospel/Sacred Harp sing at the home of a Club member -- the locale varies. We go around the circle and each person can pick a favorite gospel or Sacred Harp piece, four-part music, from the large selection we have available. If it's familiar, we zip through it, or go over it a bit if necessary. Occasionally an unfamiliar gem will emerge; a pleasant surprise! There's lively chit-chat before the singing and a tasty potluck afterwards. A nice way to spend a Sunday afternoon.

In the past, lots of singers showed up, sometimes 30 plus, but the numbers have dwindled. We still have fun, but one day we might drop below critical mass and just become a treasured memory. Only YOU can help preserve this fine mini-institution (while having an enjoyable experience) by showing up from time to time.

Next gathering will be Sunday, May 6 in an attractive Brooklyn apartment; near mass transit, and with passably easy parking. (Details elsewhere in this issue.) We look forward to singing with you.

- Sol Weber

eFolk: an Occasional Column on Folk Music and the Internet

by Steve Suffet

Do you know about the Folk DJ List? It's a moderated e-mail exchange list, also called a listserv, among people who host and/or produce folk music programs on the radio throughout North America. It also has a few participants beyond the continent in places as close as the US Virgin Islands and as far away as Australia and New Zealand. On a typical day, the Folk DJ List, which is one of many listservs hosted by Pennsylvania State University, disseminates more than two dozen new messages.

People who are not folk DJs are welcome to join the listserv as long as their e mail messages are on-topic. That means the message must concern folk music as it relates to the radio, or the radio as it relates to folk music. Announcements of newly released folk CDs, for example, are considered on-topic and will be forwarded to the list. Announcements of upcoming live performances, however, are generally considered off topic and will be not be forwarded.

As a subscriber to the Folk DJ List, you can choose to receive messages one at a time as they are approved by the list moderator, you can choose to receive them in digest form where several messages arrive at the same time, or you can choose to receive no messages at all, in which case you can get them at a later time by logging onto the host website. Even if you choose not to receive messages, as a subscriber you can still post messages, a privilege which is not extended to non-subscribers.

Many working DJs send their playlists to the Folk DJ List, so you can tell which particular songs are "hot" at any given moment, including your own. (I, for one, always send a brief "thank you" e-mail to any DJ who has played one of my songs. The "you're welcome" often comes in the form of future airplay!) Since the Folk DJ List is archived, you can even search to see how much airplay a particular artist has received in the past year, two years, three years, etc.

If this sounds interesting to you, the Folk DJ List website at <http://folkradio.org> should be able to provide you with all the information you need, including how to subscribe. If you still have questions, particularly about technical issues or guidelines for submitting messages, you can e-mail the moderator directly at listmom@folkradio.org.

Maverick Concerts is currently seeking 4 folk musicians, from the region, to perform in the world premiere of the chamber orchestra version of David Del Tredici's rarely heard piece, Final Alice, based on Lewis Carroll's Alice in Wonderland. The premiere is arranged and will be conducted at the Maverick by Alexander Platt on September 1, 2007.

Folk instrumentalists we needed: tenor banjo, accordion, mandolin; the full chamber group will be 18 musicians and a soprano/narrator. The Folk Group makes up an important part of the piece. The musicians we need must be able to read classical charts. The music is quite complex in parts and the piece is 65 minutes long.
